Dear Valued Customer:

Re: REACH

As you are aware, the EU legislation regarding the chemical policy known as REACH is in effect as of June 2007. REACH is likely to impact how we all conduct business within the EU as well as how companies export chemical products from the US into the EU. The Indium Corporation is committed to complying with REACH.

The Indium Corporation understands the importance of this directive and the impact it will make on our European customers.

We are currently conducting a full review of the products we sell within the EU to determine which may fall under REACH. The substances and or preparations that fall under the threshold quantities or other requirements will be pre-registered or registered within the guidelines set by the EU directive.

As this time we cannot provide individual information or specific products. Indium will, however, issue a follow-up letter within three months with more detailed information.

Should you have any additional questions, please contact me.

Sincerely,
